

Report on Road Goes to Austin

Commissioners Will Meet With State Highway Group on Farm-Market Roads

The Commissioners Court received a report from Engineer Harvey Smyth at the session Monday. Mr. Smyth has made a survey of the farm-to-market roads running east and west across the county as outlined by the County Planning Board, and approved by the Court. These roads will intersect Highway 87 both north and south of Canyon, and will be feeder roads for this highway.

The Commissioners Court will have a hearing before the State Highway Commission in Austin on Feb. 26 on these projects. Members of the Court will attend this hearing, and will be accompanied by Mr. Smyth, who will have all blue prints and estimates completed by that time.

District engineers have gone over the plans for the county and believe that Randall county will receive approximately the amount of roads which are being requested in this post-war project. Congress has already passed appropriations and made allotments to the various states for farm-to-market roads which will be built after the war. The State Highway Commission has set up funds for this work, while counties which wish to participate are required to do the preliminary surveys and to submit plans made by a qualified highway engineer.

R. J. Steen on Visit to Sister, Mrs. G. G. Foster

R. J. Steen is here from Wyoming to visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. G. G. Foster. Another brother, Will Steen of Trent, accompanied by his wife are also here visiting Mrs. Foster. They will go to San Antonio today to visit a brother, B. J. Steen.

Mr. Steen lived in Randall county 1899 to 1909. He married the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hoffman, remembered by many old time citizens of the county. Mrs. Hoffman is still living.

They sold out in 1909 and moved to Wyoming, where he has been engaged in farming and ranching. The Steens recently sold their holdings in Wyoming, and are now enjoying freedom from responsibilities.

However, Mr. Steen says that he has never worked harder in his life than he has this year as he helped on the farms and ranches of Wyoming.

It has been 18 years since Mr. Steen visited in Canyon. He plans to return here during the spring or summer and may spend the summer in Randall county. He is betting that the farmers of America, in spite of the lack of help and the lack of good farm machinery, will produce another record crop, as requested by the government.

Buffs To Play Final Games on Home Schedule

The Buffalo Basketball team defeated Eastern New Mexico Saturday night by the score of 84-43. The Buffs had control of the game from the very start. However, the visitors put up a scrap until the final whistle in spite of being entirely outclassed by the rangy Buffs.

The final home games will be played Friday and Saturday nights at Burton Gym. The Texas School of Mines will be here to meet the Buffs. The Mines has a fine team this year, according to report. However, Coach Gus Miller has not seen the El Paso boys in action during the season.

The Buffs will play a return engagement with Texas Tech at Lubbock on March 23 and 24. The Buffs won both of the games against Tech on the home floor.

The season for the Buffs will end at El Paso on March 2-3 when return games will be played with the School of Mines.

The University of New Mexico is the only college team to defeat the Buffs twice this season. Both games were played at Albuquerque. The Lobos won the first game 54-53 and the second game 37-34.

Testing work will start about April 1. All herds signed up by the 10th of March will be included in the first schedule. Others will start six months later.

County Opposes Auto Diversion

Bill Pending in Senate Would Handicap Post-War Road Building Program

A resolution was passed Monday by the Commissioners Court disapproving of the proposed bill in the legislature which would take 40% of the automobile registration fees in all towns and cities from the county road fund, and give this money to the municipalities. The Bill is sponsored by the Texas League of Municipalities.

The association of County Judges and Commissioners is opposed to the measure as being highly detrimental to the proposed federal program of building farm-to-market roads as a post-war project. Many counties had representatives at the first hearing of the bill Tuesday.

The resolutions of the Commissioners Court and letters from several citizens who protest this bill have gone to Senator Grady Hazlewood, Representative Jack Little and other members of the legislature.

Mayor W. A. Warren states that the city officials are opposed to the bill. While Canyon would probably receive $3,000 as a result of the transfer of funds, the city feels that this money should be spent in building farm-to-market roads which will bring farmers into Canyon rather than build more paved streets in Canyon at the present time.

As a result of this bill, a constitutional amendment has been introduced in the legislature to stop such raids on the county road funds, as this bill is termed by county officials throughout the state.

Poll Taxes are Off For the Year

Considerably Smaller Number of Poll Taxes Paid Due to Being Off-Election Year

Randall county has 1702 poll tax payers this year, with 28 who secured exemptions. It is hard to estimate the total voting strength of the county due to the fact that citizens over 60 years of age are not required to pay the poll tax. However, it is estimated that there are about 250 persons over 60 years in the county. This will bring the voting strength of the county up to approximately 2,000 for 1945.

This is considered a little better than the average for off-election years. The total number of poll tax payments last year numbered 2700, but only about half of these took time to go to the polls in the July primary. Approximately 2,000 went to the polls in the November election.

Electric Plant Tied in Circuit

Big Construction Program Is Underway With New Lines Adding Electric Power

To assure the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico an adequate supply of electric power ahead of the region's rapidly expanding agriculture, industry and REA systems on the South Plains, the Southwest Public Service Company has well under way one of the largest power plant and transmission line construction programs ever built at one time in this territory.

To assist the company in securing critical materials and to keep the expansion program on schedule, the War Production Board has recently increased priority ratings from AA-3 to a AA-2X rating for purchase and installation of the necessary generating equipment. In outlining the company's program, Roy Holland, manager in Canyon, states that work already started and work approved would cost in excess of two and one-half million dollars for the South Plains, and equal amount will be spent in other parts of the company's system.

A new steam turbo-generator of 10,000 kilowatts (13,400 H. P.) capacity is to be installed at the company's Denver City plant along with auxiliaries consisting of a 150,000 pound per hour capacity steam boiler and a cooling tower of 20,000 gallons of cooling water per minute. Additional electric equipment will also be installed in the plant substation for delivery of power into the company's transmission system. Total capacity of the Denver City plant when the new turbine is installed will be 17,500 kilowatts (23,450 H. P.).

Denver City plant is connected by transmission lines with the company's Tucco, Clovis, and other plants in the area. A new 5,000 kilowatt (6,700 H. P.) turbo-generator is also being installed in the Clovis generating plant and has previously been announced. Work is nearing completion on a new 66,000 volt transmission line, increasing the capacity of the connections between Denver City, Clovis and Tucco plants.

Work is also well along on the high strength transmission line from the company's Amarillo generating plant through Canyon to Hereford. The new line from Amarillo to Hereford is constructed with a substation capacity of 8,000 kilowatts (10,720 H. P.) and is expected to be placed in operation about May 1. The Canyon-Amarillo section of this line was put in operation about 9 p. m. Sunday.

New generating capacity for the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico at the Denver City and Clovis plants totals 15,000 kilowatts (20,100 H. P.) and with the 8,000 kilowatts (10,720 H. P.) available over the Amarillo-Canyon-Hereford transmission line, new capacity for this region will total 23,000 kilowatts (30,820 H. P.).

Other construction underway and previously announced consists of a new transmission line from Plainview to the Aiken REA substation. A new transmission line from Clovis will increase the capacity into Portales. Several of the company's distribution substations are being enlarged to meet the present and future needs for electric power throughout this section.

Wes Kleinschmidt, county chairman, says that this amount is a near triple of past contributions. "Success of the drive is the result of whole hearted cooperation of every club, every citizen, and every organization in the county. I wish to thank each and every one who in any way helped with this drive," stated Mr. Kleinschmidt.

He continued by asking that special mention be made of the services rendered by the assistant directors, the eight Home Demonstration Clubs in the county, the college organizations, the demonstration and public school, grade schools and high schools, church organizations, city clubs—social and study, the American Legion and Auxiliary, the Olympic Theater, and the merchants in town all who entered into this campaign so wholeheartedly.

One half of this money is on deposit for use in this county for victims of infantile paralysis.

THE UNIVERSITY FIGHT

It is very evident that the friends of deposed president Rainey are not going to quit the fight to restore him to office in the University of Texas. They are charging that to quit now would cripple the university, both in Texas and outside of Texas. Maybe so, and maybe the friends of Rainey will have to shoulder the blame if permanent harm is done by this continued fight.

The Austin American of Jan. 8 carried a bitter editorial against the Governor, against members of the Senate, against the House of Representatives, and against members of the Board of Regents who will not sponsor the restoration of Rainey. This was Jan. 8. In other words, this newspaper favored making the University of Texas a political football to be kicked all over Texas during the 1946 political campaign. The answer to the Austin American's argument was just one thing, and one thing only: Restore Rainey. In other words, Rainey is bigger than the university; Rainey is the one indispensable man.

Let's see what has happened since this edict to restore Rainey, or else! The Governor announced that he was seeking to appoint fair minded men to the board of regents; that he never asked the political affiliation of any man, and certainly he did not ask any appointee to either hire Rainey again, or to keep him from being fired. He announced that he had offered the job to several Texans before he found any who would accept the wholly thankless job of standing for the abuse which is being thrown at the heads of the regents.

After he announced his appointments, women of Texas bombarded his office. All of the women in the group are reported to be political enemies of the Governor, but they sought to embarrass him by demanding that he remove all regents who were opposed to Rainey, and to demand that Rainey be re-instated. The Governor still believes in the constitution, and he has no authority to remove any regent who is honest in his actions.

Then came the bombshell, which really rocked the friends of Rainey. Members of the board of regents who had been appointed by the governor, who had been making a study of the situation and the removal of the president by their predecessors, announced that it was their opinion that Rainey should not be re-instated for the good of the university. These members had not been affirmed by the Texas Senate. They were members of the board of regents only by appointment, and not by approval of the only agency in the state which had the power to refuse them the right to sit on the board. That started the fireworks in a big way. Letters and telegrams poured out of Austin to citizens all over the state, demanding that Senators be advised to reject the regents who were fair enough to tell the Senate before their approval just how they felt about the matter, after seriously considering the proposition from more than one angle. Friends of Rainey in Canyon and every other town in Texas implored citizens to write to members of the Senate, DEMANDING that they reject these regents.

What happened! All regents were confirmed, and as the board now stands Rainey is free to go job hunting. The regents are looking for a new president. This is another case in which the loud howling of the organized mob failed to quake the Senators who are constitutional officers of the state and are sworn to approve men for public office who are capable of looking at both sides of public questions rather than having mob psychology cram prejudiced opinions down their throats.

The really funny thing happened just before the Senate acted on the Governor's appointees to the board. The newly elected Democratic State Executive Committee met and solemnly demanded of the Senate that only true blue Democrats be named to the board of regents. In this instance, true blue Democrats are only rip-snorting New Dealers who are willing to swallow every bureaucratic nonsense which comes out of Washington without question. Naturally the answer was that Rainey was the only Democrat in Texas capable of being president. In other words, the State Executive Committee sets itself up as judge and jury to pass upon the qualification of all Texas public servants, and anyone who defies the will of this committee must be thrown to the wolves at the mere nod of this political organization. The mind of the Governor and the mind of the Senate do not count.

This leads to one conclusion: If Rainey, while president of the University of Texas, refused to follow the opinion of his board of regents, just how long would he last in trying to follow the multitude of conflicting opinions which he would have pushed at his poor head should the Executive Committee have its way?

As we have said before, we do not know Rainey; would not recognize him if he walked into the office right now; but we have waded thru all the propaganda which has come out of Austin. Our conclusion is that the re-instatement of Rainey would have been a great blunder, which the Senate and the Regents have verified as they studied the problem from every angle.

The New Dealers say they are going to run Rainey for Governor in 1946. If so, the responsibility for continuing this confusion will be upon their shoulders.

The AFPL is seeking to woo John L. Lewis and his miners back into this labor camp. There is a reason. Lewis has defied the War Labor Board and has defied the President. He has secured everything that his miners wished. Now he is asking for more. Considering the terrible dangers of the miners, they are entitled to top pay of all war industries. But that is not the reason William Green wants Lewis back in the parent group. AFPL and CIO are trying to break the Little Steel formula so that all unions may secure higher wages. Lewis is the most successful opponent that Roosevelt has on the labor front. The nation must have coal, or all industry will stop. Lewis knows this. He is unafraid, and will stand for no foolishness on the part of the WLB, Harold Ickes or the President. Regardless of the fact that he has boosted the wages of the miners 70%, they are still underpaid as compared with the unions which are turning out the more spectacular war machines. The machines cannot be produced without fuel, and Lewis knows that he holds the trump card. Furthermore, AFPL and CIO realize that the more camps into which labor is split, the more vulnerable will be the position of labor. If Lewis can be inveigled back into the parent group, Murray will soon lead CIO back into the parent camp. The leaders know that the battle between labor and capital will grow more fierce after the war when labor will demand that the administration carry out its pledge for more jobs at higher wages. A united labor group can tell Roosevelt how the cow ate the cabbage, and demand that he carry out his pledges. However, Lewis will not bring his miners back until he knows just how much he is going to profit in the deal. His demands will be plenty stiff.

Georgia has repealed the poll tax law. Georgia is lining up with the Supreme Court's decision to outlaw the poll tax as an implement of voting. The balance of the southern states which have not fallen in line had as well get ready to ditch the poll tax. Congress is going to repeal the poll tax requirement some of these days. The News has always taken the position that while the poll tax law is unjust as a requirement for casting a ballot; yet at the same time, any citizen who did not think enough of his government to pay $1.75 into the school fund for the privilege of voting is too sorry a citizen to be allowed to vote. The News furthermore has repeatedly advocated that time for payment of the poll tax should be extended from Jan. 31, in order that all who wanted to secure the ballot in hot political years be given the opportunity to pay this tax up to June 1. Governor Stevens has now advanced this proposal. He points out the fact that poll tax payment is an effective means of registration. When the poll tax law is abolished—which it will be very soon—there must be a registration system, which will cost the state money rather than bring money into the school fund. But the cards are stacked against the present poll tax laws of Southern states. The show-down cannot be postponed much longer. Georgia took the lead in repealing this controversial measure before it was forced upon the state by Congress. Texas had better get ready for the change.

Selective Service officials who have to worry about medical deferments, got a good laugh the other day from Dr. Logan Clendenen's list of the world's great military men who would have been 4-F's in this war. Those who would have been rejected include: George Washington, who had false teeth; Bismarck, who was overweight; Napoleon, who had a stomach ulcer; U. S. Grant, who suffered from alcoholism; Julius, who was an epileptic; Lord Nelson, who fought on with only one arm and one eye; and Kaiser Wilhelm, who had a withered arm.

The President is attempting to kick upstairs another of his ardent New Dealers. This time it is Aubrey Williams. Williams was head of the National Youth Administration, brainchild of Mrs. Roosevelt, which aided many worthy students thru college, and handicapped others who would have made the grade without this socialistic aid. Now comes Williams, appointed as head of the government multi-billion Rural Electrification program. The administration is trying to put electricity in every farm home in the land. This is a most laudable ambition, as farm people certainly need electricity. But in building government plants, the cost is charged against the taxpayers, and millions of small shareholders in privately owned electric companies will be squeezed out by these government owned and operated plants. Furthermore, instead of receiving taxes from such privately owned plants, the taxpayers will be called upon to dig up the difference in the cost of government operation. The post-office, the biggest business in the nation, is not making a profit out of government operation, so how could you expect electric plants to break even? Back to Williams. Here is another social worker, who testifies that he knows nothing about the electrical business; has never been associated with the business; has no ideas as to the operations of such business; yet he is named by the President to operate the biggest power plants in the nation. His past experience is along the lines of Henry Wallace, a free spender of your tax money. It is expected that the Senate will make short work of Williams' nomination. Washington predicts that he will be rejected. It is rumored that the President is attempting to pay another political debt—at the expense of the taxpayers of the nation.

What have you decided about compulsory military training after the war? This is something that every American will have to thrash out and decide in his own mind. The Canyon Rotary Club has been making a study of this highly controversial question. The consensus of opinion seems to be that Congress has not yet presented any clear picture of compulsory training. While Americans in the past have opposed such training, there is a universal feeling that everything possible must be done to prevent another war. Those who favor compulsory military training believe that this is the one sure cure for future wars; those who are opposed believe that it is only another reason why we shall have another war. We believe that every American is sincere in his opinion. It is not a question as to what the army or navy or administration wants. It is a question of future security for the nation. When some one is able to present facts and figures to show that abolishing war may be possible through military training, the people will swing behind such leadership. Secrecy will not win for either side of this mooted question.

Some city officials of Texas are attempting to pass a bill through the legislature to divert 40% of automobile tax money collected in towns and cities from the highways to city streets. That may sound on the surface to be an equitable measure. Hundreds of cars in Canyon, and thousands of cars in Dallas never use the country roads. Such a bill would benefit Canyon about $3,000 annually. But let's see what the result would be. We are talking about farm-to-market highways. The farmers need such highways so that they may bring their products to market at all times of the year, and at little cost as possible. They must have highways in order to reach markets. No town or city in Texas is so big that it can live without the support of the farming area surrounding it. This is particularly true of such rural towns as Canyon. Randall county is hoping for farm-to-market roads as a post-war project. In order to carry this out, Randall county will need every cent that it can gather to assist in building these roads. It would be very unwise for Canyon to advocate that any automobile money be diverted from Randall county road building until all county roads are hard surfaced. Everyone in Canyon agrees to this. Some very unwise city officials in Texas are proposing this bill, which we are confident will be defeated in the legislature.

In practically every session of the legislature some members bob up with the idea of abolishing the gasoline refund tax for farmers. Such a bill is now pending. The author of this refund bill back in 1929 was A. B. Tarwater of Plainview. When he introduced the bill, many members of the legislature predicted that it would never pass. Tarwater threw his whole soul behind the measure, and it was put over. Ever since that date, attempts have been made to repeal the measure and make the farmers pay the tax on all gasoline they use in their farm operations. Facts are, the bill should be modified. Farmers should see to it that changes are made before the whole measure is repealed. There have been too many flagrant violations. Farmers who receive refund on gasoline have used this tax-free gasoline in their cars used on the highways, which is a violation of the law. Farmers who are honestly observing the law should sponsor a bill to punish those who violate the measure.

The American press is getting sick and tired of getting its news out of England. The conference of the big three has been in progress for several days. American publishers knew of the conference; when it started; where it was being held. But the administration cannot trust American publishers. So the censorship was clamped down on the American press. American newspapers are forced to secure news releases on the conferences out of London. Censorship in America is more or less voluntary, and the press has not violated its pledge to withhold important news releases until approval has been received from Washington. Yet it burns the publishers down to be forced to take this news second-hand from London. It shows that our State Department still considers the British way of life superior to the American way.

Hitler still demands that Germans shed their blood to the last drop. Naturally he is willing that these poor deluded people shed their blood, rather than pay with his own life for the crimes he has perpetrated upon the world. The soft souls in England are still convinced that Hitler should not be considered a war criminal. Stalin has other ideas. It is now revealed that our navy is setting up its own war crime commission, and will be backed by the army in seeing that all war criminals are punished. Maybe Hitler will join Hess in the British Empire when he feels the hot breath of the Russians and Americans upon his unholy neck.

The News has been called upon to urge local citizens to save waste paper. All kinds of paper are running short, and old papers, especially newspapers and magazines, are needed to replenish the factory stock. Carloads of old papers have been gathered in many Texas cities. In small towns, like Canyon, gathering such paper is a real problem. It costs more to gather the paper than the stuff brings on the market. The Boy Scouts of Canyon have done a swell job in gathering waste

The Chicago Tribune is the popular whipping boy. A Chicago tax commissioner charges that Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, by a false affidavit persuaded the Chicago tax commission to lower the taxable value of a building he owns in Chicago. Ickes blames Col. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune for the expose, although all the Chicago papers carried news stories of the incident simultaneously. Under oath, Ickes stated it was a three-story building. Pictures show it to be a five-story building. Ickes oaths says the rental is $24,000 per year. The renters say they pay $60,000. But it is all the Chicago Tribune's fault. Ickes got out the old cat-o-nine and gives Col. McCormick 20 lashes. Says he never signed affidavit, but a photostatic copy shows his signature, nothing to indicate anybody signed it for him. The document plainly states it is a three story building and the rental $2,000 per month. Ickes inherited the building from his first wife.

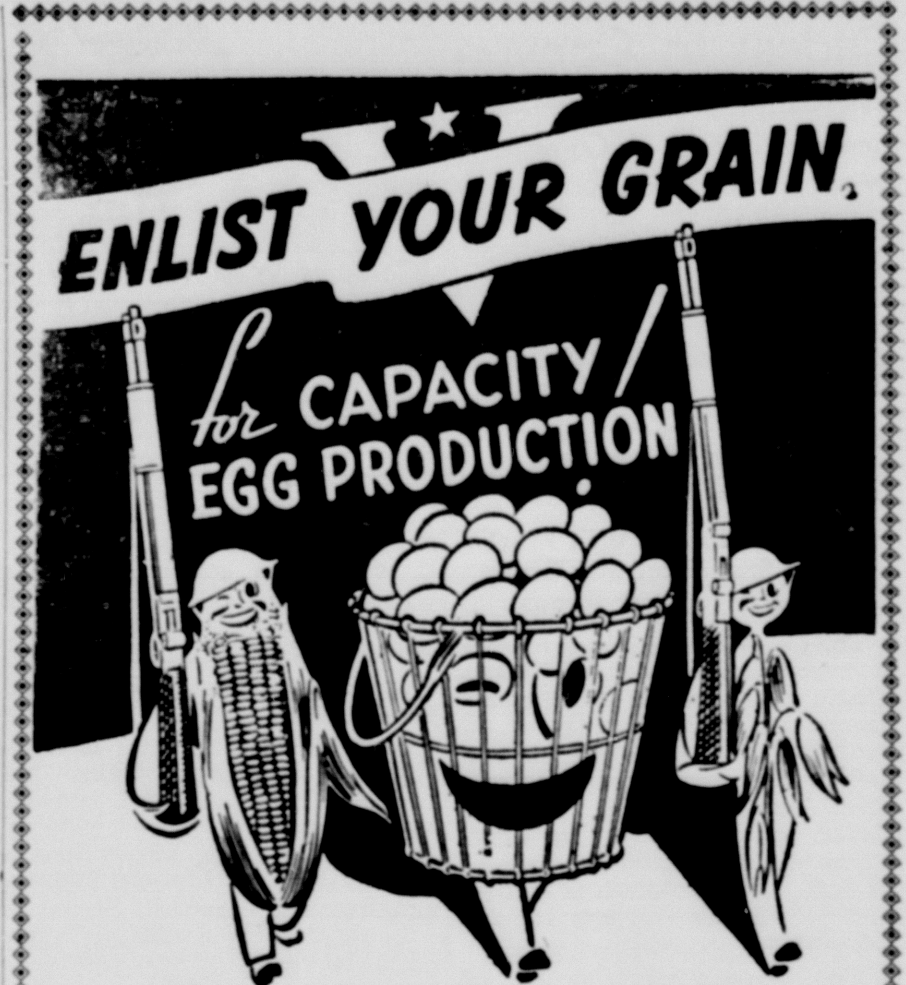

The government expects farmers to again break crop records in 1945. Yet we are told the average age of farm operators is 59 years. They work 12 to 16 hours a day, 7 days a week, against industrial workers' 7 1/2 hours per day. Drafting most of the 18 to 25-year-old farm help will put a big question mark on new crop records. With worn-out machinery, and principally older men to do the job, we will be lucky if there is not a drop in farm production.

Museum Visitors' List Longer This January

During the past month scores of America's most outstanding citizens, members of all branches of the armed services, were visitors at the Panhandle Plains Museum. About seventy per cent of the states were represented and the museum officials are proud that so many people from other states have visited the museum which is peculiarly Texan.

There appears to be a very pronounced increase in attendance over the past January's 1,463, 1943; 1,409, 1944; and 1,905 last month. Here is the record by states: Arkansas, 8; California, 41; Colorado, 13; Connecticut, 1; Florida, 8; Idaho, Science Students Move Into New "Ultra-Modern" Chemistry Dept.

Lab Is Equipped With Best Facilities

Science students on the campus are finding it difficult to believe their good fortune.

The new $7,500 chemistry laboratory located in the science building is completed to an extent that all chemistry classes have been held in the new department since the beginning of this semester.

The chemistry lab covering the entire west side of the second floor is one of the best planned and equipped units to be found in any college. It is divided into six rooms, each one providing for a special type or phase of chemistry.

The freshman lab which is being used by all classes at present contains six tables, each equipped with a water, gas, and air supply. Of importance to this section is the installation of two fume hoods which act as suction to remove unpleasant and sometimes dangerous gases.

A filing cabinet for notebooks, a weighing table, and compartments for individual equipment in addition to the tables, provide facilities capable of accommodating three hundred and fifty students a year.

Adjoining freshman lab is the supply room, having approximately four times as much storage capacity as that in old department. It contains six ceiling-high rows of shelves which provide space for storing chemicals and for extra equipment.

A special room has been provided for delicate balancing equipment. These balances measure to the fourth decimal of a gram and are kept in specially designed cases that maintain even temperature.

Also provided is a place where upper classmen may carry on qualitative and quantitative work, and arrangements have been made for both physical and organic chemistry.

Across the hall, but still a part of the department are the offices and a lecture room, which is also used for other classes.

The lecture room, built with seven curved elevations, has a seating capacity of eighty-eight. It has three sliding black boards and is arranged so as to permit the installation of a projector in the future.

In view of the post war building program, two offices, each with its own laboratory, have been equipped. Dr. Pierle, head of the department is occupying one of the offices.

The increase in efficiency and progress made possible by the improvement of the chemistry department not only aids the students directly benefited, but adds greatly to the value of the college.

With yams plentiful as they are at the present, housewives should make the greatest possible use of them. Nutritionally yams and sweet potatoes are of great value; they are excellent sources of vitamin A which is an asset to eye efficiency and which protects against colds and other respiratory diseases. The deeper the color of the vegetable, the better it is in this respect. Although yams are not especially rich in vitamin C, the quality on which they are eaten make them important sources; this is especially important for us to remember when our usual sources of this vitamin are high in cost as they are now. Too, yams contain appreciable amounts of the B vitamins so essential to health and well being. Add to this the fact that these vegetables are excellent foods and are inexpensive as well and we can readily see the value of them.

To avoid having such a good food served in the same way each day, the following suggestions are given as to how they may be used.

Bake them in the skin. If the peel is lightly oiled before baking and the oven temperature kept moderate, the skins may be eaten also.

Boil in the peel to save time and nutrients. Serve with butter or fortified margarine or gravy.

Boil or bake more potatoes than are needed and use on another day by serving in one of these ways: (1) whipped—mash the potatoes, season well, and beat until light; heating in a double boiler is good. (2) en casserole—whip the potatoes and place them in a lightly greased baking dish with alternate layers of very thin slices of orange-peel and all; have orange slices on top. Bake in a moderate oven. The addition of a well beaten egg white to the whipped potatoes is good as it produces a fluffy, light mixture. (3) add cinnamon, sugar or syrup to taste to whipped potatoes. Bake in oiled dish. (4) mix whipped potatoes with bread or cracker crumbs or with dry flaked cereal and add an egg. Drop into hot fat and brown.

Glaze or candy potatoes by paring them thinly, cut in half lengthwise, and cook over a moderate fire until almost tender. Place in greased baking pan or skillet and baste generously with syrup. Heat slowly until tender.

Don't overlook both sweet potato pie and custard.

If you have enough fat to permit deep fat frying, try French Fried sweet potatoes and sweet potato chips. They are delicious.

District Governor Paid Official Visit to Rotary Club

District Governor Harris M. Cook paid his official visit to the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday. This was the 59th official visit of the Governor for the year, and is the last of the visits to each club in the district.

Gov. Cook paid high tribute to the work that he found in every Rotary club over the district. Business and professional men are carrying forward the high ideals of the club during the war, and are contributing valuable assistance to the nation during these times of national trial.

The homes, schools and churches of America have produced young men of high ideals—men who are willing to go out and fight for the principles which all Americans cherish so greatly.

Rotary accepts the challenge to Democracy and will continue in its fight to make this a better world through the motto of Rotary, "Service Above Self."

The second greatest Reason in the World

WHENEVER you are sorely tempted to cash in a War Bond—for whatever reason—think for a moment.

There are many great reasons why you should not cash in your Bonds before they mature—before they pay you back $4 for every $3 you've invested.

The first—and greatest—reason is that you are an American, and you have pledged yourself to back American fighting men with all your strength, courage and character. The second greatest reason is that by cashing in Bonds you may be risking the future of your children.

For the War Bonds you keep today can spell the security of your child's tomorrow.

Don't depend on tomorrow to take care of itself. Remember—no job is as sure as your Bond. Don't cash in a single one before its time.

Committee Chooses Press Club Pledges

Hugg and Haines Are New Quill and Scroll Initiates

After considering the qualities of ability to write, vocabulary, key interest, willingness to work and English grades, Supt. J. B. Speer and Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore have submitted the names of Rose Hugg and Vergie Ruth Haines as pledges for Quill and Scroll, International Honor Society for High School Journalists.

Rose and Vergie have earned many honors during their years in high school. This is the fourth year in Canyon High School for each of them, and each has taken only one semester of journalism.

An informal initiation will be administered to the pledges sometime next week by the old members of the society—Ellen Root, Ellen Sanders and Margaret Lair. This will be followed later by a formal initiation in which Rose and Vergie will be declared official members of Quill and Scroll. They will receive club pins and a year's subscription to the Quill and Scroll magazine.

SAME OLD STORY

Did you do your part today, or did you go through your usual daily routine without furthering the war effort by buying some bonds or stamps.

That money you spent on candy and cokes could have been put to a vital and timely use. Your money for bonds and stamps is needed from one corner of the globe to the other.

Try to neglect that gluttonous appetite for a while. Money is needed on the land, in the air, and on the sea to help get a war-tired world back on the highway of peace.

—by Frances Harp.

YEA TEAM FIGHT

Back our Eagles! What does that expression mean to you? Well, to the Eagles it means several things.

First and most important is showing your enthusiasm by going to every game you possibly can. And while you are there, let them know you're behind them by cheering them on. After the game, go tell them what a good game they played and how proud you are of them.

If you didn't attend a game, ask the basketball boys about it when you meet them. Questions like "How much did you beat 'em?" and "Who was high point man?" really please them. Just ask them and see.

Classes Discuss Future Socials

Students Combine Party Plans for Two Grades

Several groups discussed forthcoming parties and plays Friday when Canyon High School classes held regular semi-monthly meetings.

President Harold Erwin called the senior meeting to order, and appointed J. Spencer Winn, Sue Ann Moreman, and Marilyn Johnigan as a committee to read and decide on a play to be presented by the class in April. Announcements were made concerning senior pictures and new members were welcomed.

Joint Party

Juniors discussed a party which will be held jointly with the sophomores, and remaining time was spent in a discussion of a play and an assembly program.

In the sophomore meeting, members discussed the joint junior-sophomore party. Edwin Huff was in charge of the program composed of reading by James Guthrie.

Plans Socials

Discussion in the freshman meeting pertained to a party and a play. George Milford and Elmer Mickey were on the program.

Before the eighth grade program was presented, students discussed a party and play.

Seventh grade members elected Mrs. E. E. Hawkins as a new room-mother, set class dues, and sang songs. Ruby Lee Bonds, Mary Ann Baker, Clifford Prichard, Carl Hair, Carroll Wray Dickerson, and Marilyn Small were included on a committee appointed by the president to plan the next party.

Private Si Maxwell Bosley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Bosley and a '44 graduate of Canyon High, is home on a fourteen day leave from Fort Meade, Maryland.

Max has been in the Army seventeen weeks and received his first training at Camp Wheeler, Georgia.

Sgt. Benny Railing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Railing, Vancouver, Washington, was visiting in Canyon last week. Now stationed at Amarillo Army Air Field, Sgt. Railing has been in the service 28 months.

Benny, a flight engineer and gunner, has been in England six months and has completed 32 missions. He is in the 8th Air Force and holds the Presidential Unit Citation, Distinguished Flying Cross, and the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters. He has the European theater of operations ribbon with three bronze stars for his major engagements.

Our Heroes—First and Last

Above are the Canyon High School Eagles who will be hosts in the district tournament to be held here tomorrow and Saturday.

Here's old Cactus Cal from Cactus Gulch bringin' you some of the hottest news since the gold rush of 1849.

Here—at last—is the news you've been waiting for—and How! Donal Iverson is in love. The lucky miss is an eighth grader and her name might be Sue Ann Colwell—at least you would think so from talking to them.

Bill Thurmon really is sharp these days. He's making an effort to get into the senior girls' sorority and confidentially—there aren't any other boys in it.

Latest burning flame in the sophomore section is Nell Drake and Wilbert Long. In fact, they went together Sunday and—well, one thing leads to another. But tough luck for both when things are going good—Nell is moving away.

This modern "wink-um" seems to be going over really big with the seventh graders. Their game involves just a little more than winks—so how about you kids dropping in on the senior party sometime and teaching them how.

Staff Will Send Final Copy Soon

In order to have the Canyon High School annual, "Soaring Wings," finished by the end of school, the staff will send in the final copy by the first of March.

Annals will be ready for distribution to the students about one week before school is out in the spring.

"Soaring Wings" will be dedicated to the boys from Canyon High School that are in service.

Pictures of the grade school pupils will be made next week.

Staff members who have been appointed and are now working on the different divisions are the same students who are on the Eagle's Tale staff.

CHS Commences Bond Campaign

Hoping to surpass the $4522.45 goal achieved in the Pearl Harbor Day Campaign, Canyon High School will begin another intensive bond and stamp drive next week.

Each class will enter a flag. At the end of each week, the class having the highest percentage of students buying stamps and bonds will be permitted to raise its flag on the flag pole.

Money received in the sales of these drives will be used by the government to purchase jeeps for the army.

Parties Celebrate Valentine Season

Clubs and Classes Attend Diverse Entertainments

In honor of St. Valentine's Day members of the eighth grade, F. H. T. club, and junior class attended parties recently at Canyon High School.

On Thursday night, February 8, the juniors held a buffet supper in the homemaking department with a Valentine theme predominating. Backed chicken, dressing, gravy, English peas, mashed potatoes, combination salad, sour and sweet pickles, hot rolls and butter composed the menu.

Eighth grade pupils of Canyon High School held a formal party in the high school gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Cecil Simms, sponsor, and Mrs. Terrill Christian, chairman of the roommothers, supervised the party of various games, ping-pong, social and folk dancing. Decorations and refreshments were carried out in a Valentine theme.

F. H. T. club members of CHS sponsored a Valentine dance and party in honor of the F. P. A. chapter Tuesday night in the high school gymnasium. James Lair, F. P. A. president and mid-term graduate of Canyon High School, who will leave at the end of this month to join the Navy, was honored guest for the evening. Refreshments of apricot punch, cheese sandwiches, and cookies were served to the F. H. T. members and guests.

C. M. Rogers, president of the State Teachers Association, spoke to the Randall County Teachers on pending legislation for the public schools of the state last Monday at 4:30 in the science building at West Texas State College.

Myrtle Dooley, a former W. T. high school student, entered the sophomore class of Canyon High School, Tuesday, February 6.

Grade Notes

As they were studying about Alaska, Mrs. H. P. Doughty's third grade built an igloo. This also served as post office for their valentines. At their valentine party yesterday, the roommothers—Mrs. Fred Marshall Jr., Mrs. J. W. Carter, Mrs. J. H. Milford, and Mrs. Kermit Pond—served ice cream and cake.

Mrs. L. M. Cousins' fourth grade students have built a post office to use for the distribution of their valentines. This will also be used later in connection with their English work.

Ed Harrell and Charles Morris are back in this class after a period of illness.

Instead of Mrs. Mitchell Jones' 53 students spending their money for valentines, they are buying defense stamps. They have also made a large heart out of several smaller ones and have pictures on them representing the branches of service.

Mrs. Roscoe Davis' and Mrs. Stella Murrell's second grades and Mrs. H. P. Doughty's and Mrs. A. K. Goodman's grades will sing a group of patriotic songs for the P. T. A. meeting this afternoon.

Honoring Dorothy Neblett on her ninth birthday, Mrs. A. K. Goodman's third grade had a party Friday. Ice cream, cake and punch were served.

Lonzo Davis is back in this class after an appendectomy.

After the valentine box in Mrs. Stella Murrell's second grade was opened yesterday afternoon, roommothers—Mrs. J. E. McGehee, Mrs. A. K. Bolton, and Mrs. Q. V. Winningham—served refreshments of candy and punch to the students.

Fowler Conducts Spring Schedule

Homemaking students of Canyon High School, under the general supervision of Mrs. Ewell Fowler, entered new fields of study at the beginning of this semester.

First year homemaking students are learning to prepare and serve their first breakfasts.

In the second year class, the students are making children's garments; and in third year homemaking, the class is studying consumer buying problems and getting ready to make over some garments.

Modern Gas Service

Many women, working long hours beside their sons and husbands on America's production lines, are also keeping things humming at home. Meals must be cooked. Food must be purchased and preserved. There must be hot water for baths. Modern gas engineering is keeping these women on the job, both at home and at defense work. Research carried on years before the war has put such outstanding gas appliances as the automatic water heater, kitchen range and automatic gas heaters in millions of American homes... homes that today are operated by these defense working women... and they are the people who can truly appreciate every little convenience that Natural Gas is giving to them now.

Alvin Allison of Levelland says his town is the center of the second biggest oil field in the world (in area), that there is not a bridge in the county, that 98 per cent of the land in the county is tillable. The other 2 per cent? That consists of lakes. . . . R. Did you hear about the unique rummage sale that one town had? Every woman was to bring something that had no value but still was too good to throw away. Well, the sale was a failure—every woman brought her husband.

Lt. Jim Holston Holds Silver Star Medal

Wife and Son Reside at Home in Canyon

1st Lt. Jimmie Holston is now the holder of the Silver Star Medal which was awarded to him on September 8, 1944. The text of the citation which explains the reason for the award follows:

"1st Lt. M. Jimmie Holston, 0-1180215, F. A. 224th F. A. Bn., U. S. Army, for gallantry in action against the enemy in Normandy, France. On 10 August 1944, information was received that an advanced infantry battalion in the St. Germain sector was isolated and in desperate need of ammunition. Fully aware of the hazards of the undertaking, 1st Lt. Holston volunteered to fly an observer in a liaison plane and drop the ammunition to the beleaguered battalion. Despite intense enemy small arms fire which was directed at his slow, unarmed, light and extremely vulnerable aircraft, 1st Lt. Holston successfully reached his destination and dropped the urgently needed ammunition. The intrepidity, professional skill and devotion to duty displayed by 1st Lt. Holston reflect great credit upon himself and the Military Service. Entered Military Service from Texas."

By command of Major General GERHARDT.

Besides holding the Silver Star, Lt. Holston has been awarded the Air Medal and has added eleven clusters to it. He is an artillery spotter and has been in action since D-Day. He went into action on that day as a Forward Observer for the 25th Infantry Division. He has been overseas since October 1943. Lt. Holston graduated from West Texas State in 1935 with a major in Education Administration. He was well known on the campus as being a good athlete, having played football here and having participated in other athletic activities, particularly swimming. Before going into the service, he was coach and teacher at Horace Mann Junior High School in Amarillo.

Mrs. Holston and their son, Jim, live in Canyon, Mrs. Holston being employed half-time in the Bureau of Public Service.

"The sixteen smooth-surfaced canvases were standard O'Keeffe: quasi-mystical, highly polished designs inspired by New Mexico landscapes and still life."

Time goes on to say that O'Keeffe oil paintings sell regularly for between $3-4,000, and that her best sale to date was $10,000, received for an untitled flower piece. O'Keeffe's business manager is her Photographer-art dealer husband, Alfred Steiglitz.

Missionary to Speak At Baptist Church

Dr. Baker James Cauthen, brilliant young missionary to China, will speak at the Baptist Church in Canyon, Sunday at 8:15, February 18. He brings an interesting message based on several years in China among Japanese-controlled people and in "free" or unoccupied China

Before going to China Dr. Cauthen was a professor in Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and was also pastor of Polytechnic Baptist Church in Fort Worth.
